'Bulkhead Issue' Heads Agenda of City Council

The "bulkhead issue," from which a cloud of verbal smoke arose at the last city council meeting, was again on the agenda tonight.

The legal dispute over repair of a bulkhead in Redwood Creek on the Wallace subdivision was the grounds on which Councilman Floyd D. Granger at the last council meeting accused City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy of "running the city."

Emil Steinegger, former owner of the property on which the bulkhead was built, appeared before the council to protest McCarthy's opinion that he (Steinegger) was liable for the repair of the bulkhead. Steinegger stated that he had since sold the property to H. E. Heins. Steinegger claimed that he had a written agreement signed by Heins by which the latter assumed full responsibility for the bulkhead. Steinegger said he had given the agreement to McCarthy. The city attorney denied knowledge of the paper.

Granger assailed McCarthy for not calling the issue to the council's attention before. The attorney answered that he felt the matter was essentially a legal problem.

The long awaited ordinance governing cutting up of houses into one and two-room apartments is scheduled to come before the council tonight. City Mgr. Robert Mead will make a report on a recent meeting of city officials of the county at which the proposal was discussed.

Other matters on the agenda include:

1. Further consideration of separating the offices of treasurer and auditor.
2. Application of Mrs. Rose Roy to operate a trailer camp on Bayshore Blvd.
3. Vic Michel Blacksmith Shop abatement proceedings.
4. City manager's report on the meeting of W. L. Meussdorffer and department heads, on abatement proceedings against Meussdorffer's property.
5. City manager's report on contacting the high school regarding control of pedestrian traffic.
6. City manager's report on the condition of the lot back of Garden City Products Co.
7. Status of building located on Arguello between Fuller and Bradford Sts.
8. Recommendation from the chamber of commerce for the appointment of Joseph Territo to succeed Al Robertson as a member of the citizens' traffic study committee.
9. War Memorial Auditorium Committee's request for 1944-45 budget consideration.
10. California Mission Trails Assn. request for $100 appropriation in the 1944-45 budget.
11. Study of the default in contract of H. C. Munson to purchase Lot 51 of Reese subdivision.

Brintnall Sues Burlingame Estate

A suit for $30,000 against the estate of William S. Tevis, Burlingame capitalist who died Aug. 3, 1943, was filed in superior court here Monday by John W. Brintnall.

On May 22, 1902, the complaint states, Tevis delivered a document to Samuel Tevis in which he promised to invest $25,000 in Samuel Tevis' name at 5 per cent interest. Samuel Tevis died Dec. 10, 1933, in Alameda, and his widow, Edith, became the beneficiary of the estate. Mrs. Tevis married Brintnall. She died Nov. 5, 1935, and left the estate to Brintnall. Brintnall claims the $25,000 has not been paid and that interest for the past four years is unpaid.

The suit was filed against Walker Peddicord, administrator of Tevis' estate.

Knights of Columbus Schedule Communion

The annual District Communion and Breakfast of the Knights of Columbus will be held on Sunday, June 23. Immediately following the 8 a.m. mass at St. Matthew's Church in San Mateo, members will meet for breakfast at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel.

Dist. Dep. Edward J. Jorgensen of Redwood City is in charge of arrangements and will preside at the breakfast.

Honored guests will be state officers and committee chairmen. Edwin C. Boehm, state deputy of Los Angeles and Thomas Duffy, state deputy elect of San Francisco have already signified their intention to attend.

S. P. Honors Its 15,294 Fighters

Representative of the more than 15,000 Southern Pacific employees now in the armed forces on battlefronts and in training areas, these furloughed railroaders posed with their company's Service Flag at recent observance of "S.P. War Service Day." Numerous rallies were held by the railroad's 100,000 men and women to honor their fellow workers in uniform and pay homage to the 56 who are officially reported as having died in the service of their country.

Lt. Joseph Fox Awarded Air Medal Posthumously

An air medal has been awarded posthumously to 1st Lt. Joseph R. (Russ) Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fox, 828 Blandford Ave., according to an Associated Press dispatch received here Tuesday.

The communique stated that the award for meritorious flying achievements was made by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, Allied air commander in the Southwest Pacific.

Fox was killed in aerial combat over New Guinea sometime last April.

Born and reared in Redwood City, "Russ" as he was known to a multitude of friends, was an all-around athlete at Sequoia being a basketball star, a member of the swimming team and the championship football team of 1938.

He attended Santa Clara University before entering the army air corps, where he was commissioned a second lieutenant in January, 1943, at Douglas Field, Ariz. Following a flight over Rabaul, Fox was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant.

At the time of his death he had completed 40 missions successfully and was expected to return home in August, according to his father.

Fox's brother, 1st Lt. John H. Fox is now flying with the U. S. Ninth Air Force in England. Another brother, Dennis, is attending Stanford, and his sister, Katherine, is at Mt. Carmel.

The dispatch also stated that 2nd Lt. Jack W. Rosner of 121 Park Rd., Burlingame, had been similarly honored.

Fire Threatens Carpet House, Downtown Block

A fire in the rear of the Mission Carpet House, 2635 Broadway, that might have threatened an entire block had it not been for the quick action of the Redwood City Fire Dept. and the fact that Dick Matthews, an employee of the Weltner Motor Co. was working on the company used car lot at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, destroyed a large shed and did an estimated $200 damage before it was put out early yesterday evening.

Matthews noticed a heavy smoke cloud rising from the lot in the rear of the building about 6:30 o'clock in the evening and then saw flames leap up from the shed. He called the fire department which arrived at the scene almost immediately and turned four streams of water on the shed which was used to store linoleum and waterproofing material and is highly inflammable as was some floor wax that was also stored in the building.

Because of the quick action of the fire department, the flames were extinguished before they reached a heat intensity great enough to explode the cans. Dick Myers, owner of the Mission Carpet House, said that had the cans become sufficiently heated, they would have exploded and might have blasted the windows of the building, spreading the fire through the carpets and linoleum inside. All of these windows were closed at the time of the fire, preventing sparks from spreading inside the building.

The shed was a total loss and several cars on the Weltner lot were scorched as they were parked along the fence that backs up the lot where the shed was located. As yet, the origin of the fire has not been determined although Myers said that it might have started as a result of combustion of the paste. He said that the shed had been used for storage purposes for several years.

Another fire, this time starting from grease on a stove at the New Life Coffee Shop, 858 Main St., was quenched by the fire department at 9:43 a.m. Wednesday. The burning grease spread behind the stove and did a minor amount of damage to the walls, firemen said this morning.

Three Sites Suggested For Co. Home

A study of sites which would be most adaptable for a new juvenile home was made by the County Probation Committee last week and three sites were suggested.

Suggested sites for the new home are at Canyon Sanatorium, County Relief Home and Community Hospital. These three sites were proposed primarily because the county owns the property.

However, it is the belief of at least one member of the committee that a site which might be more adaptable might be contributed to the county or purchased by the county for a nominal fee.

Chmn. Joseph L. Hyman said that a public meeting would be held July 10 to allow the public to voice its opinion on where the new home might be located.

Judge Edward I. McAuliffe of Redwood City, who has been "all out" for a new juvenile home for years, has been insistent that a definite long-range program be established before the building project is started.

Among the items to be considered in selecting a site is the availability to all communities in the county. Judge McAuliffe pointed out.

R.C. Failing In Bond Drive

An urgent plea "not to let us down" was voiced here by C. H. Woodhams, general chairman of the Fifth War Loan Drive, when bond sales yesterday hit an all-time low of $4775 for individual purchases.

While these were all in series "E" which was expected to be the most difficult to sell, the daily quota to be sold here if the drive is to be completed successfully is $13,500.

Although individual purchases are considered to be the most important, the only bright spot of the day was the purchase of $400,000 worth of bonds by San Mateo County. Of this purchase, $56,000 was allotted to Redwood City-Woodside area.

This brings the grand total of bonds sold to date up to $312,630.85 of which $136,786.85 is in series "E," $118,334 all others, and $57,500 in allocations.

Arrangements were being made today to call a meeting of the committees to see what new life could be put into the drive.

Present plans contemplate street sales next Saturday handled jointly by the Kiwanis Club and the Foresters. Kiwanians will take over the bond booth in front of Territo's and the Foresters will have their headquarters in front of Montgomery Ward & Co.

A premiere of "Double Indemnity," starring Barbara Stanwyck and Fred MacMurray, will be held at the Redwood Theater on Tuesday evening, June 27. The combined Veterans' associations will be in charge of sales at the Fourth of July celebration. The drive will close July 12.

should be made payable to the Lions Club-Tribune Campership Fund.

Exchange Club Helps Camp Fund

The Lions Club-Tribune Campership Fund here stood at $171, with the Exchange Club sending in a check for $32. The Exchange Club designated $16 for Boy Scout camp and $16 for YMCA camp.

Only a few days remain in which funds may be received to send underprivileged boys and girls to camps this summer. Your dollar, plus dollars from your neighbors, will send youngsters to camp. Boys do not have to belong to the Boy Scouts or the YMCA nor girls to the Girl Scouts to attend the camps.

Boy Scout camp will be held in Memorial Park near Pescadero, Y.M.C.A. camp will be at Jones Gulch near La Honda, and Girl Scout camp will be held at Camp Chaparral in Big Basin.

If you care to aid a boy or girl go to camp this summer, bring or send your money to the Tribune office, 30 California St. Checks

S. & W. Plant Doubles Staff

New employees are being added daily by the S. & W. Fine Foods, Inc. until the present staff has been doubled. This means an addition of 350 employees by the peak season in late July and early August.

Part time shifts called victory shifts as well as split shifts are being welcomed by the company, Miss Erica Sydney, personnel manager, said last week.

She urged that any woman who has worked even in her own kitchen and can spare some time to get in touch with the plant since with the expected shortage of manpower, all efforts are being made to see that the government receives its quota. Government orders this year will take between 65 and 80 per cent of the total pack.

Arrangements may be made with the nursery school here she added to take care of children while their mothers are working. Opened last year under government sponsorship, costs of the school are paid in part by the government, industry and the parents.

The plant started a swing shift here from 4 p.m. until midnight to handle apricots. The cherry pack will start on June 26, peaches in August and plums in September. Two shifts will be continued throughout the winter season to handle the dehydration processing.

Plans Being Made For Bond Premier

Plans were being completed for the gala Hollywood premier on Tuesday evening, June 27, at the Redwood Theater.

Since there are only about one-third as many seats available there as at the Sequoia where the first premier was held, bond buyers were urged to make their purchases early and secure a seat for the showing of "Double Indemnity" starring Barbara Stanwyck and Fred MacMurray.

Tickets are now available at all local banks and at the post office.

S.M. City Manager Seeks County Help on Ambulances

City Mgr. W. D. Soule of San Mateo has sought to determine if there was a possibility that San Mateo County would aid the Three Cities in establishing a more adequate ambulance service.

Soule asked the supervisors to consider a joint plan and to make suggestions on how the cost could be met. Soule pointed out there are only two ambulances in the Three Cities area—one from Mills Memorial Hospital and one from Community Hospital. An ambulance from South San Francisco Hospital is available for emergencies.

Soule reported at Monday night's meeting of the San Mateo City Council that it would cost $14,770 to set up a municipal ambulance service in San Mateo. The council instructed him to contact the Burlingame and Hillsborough councils to see if they would come in on the plan.

R.C. Airman Reported Safe

In a letter received last week from their son, Staff Sgt. Frank Roger Vaillancourt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Vaillancourt, 190 Westgate St., learned that he had reported back to duty on May 30.

Sergeant Vaillancourt, an army air corps gunner, was reported downed in action and missing over Yugoslavia according to a War Department announcement on May 26. It was believed that he might be one of the 13 American flyers reported by an Associated Press dispatch received here today as being safe with units of Gen. Draja Mihailovic and awaiting Allied planes to return them to Italian bases after being forced down in Yugoslavia.

The Redwood City soldier was wounded in action in the European theater last December but he recovered and rejoined his outfit shortly after.

Vaillancourt is a graduate of San Mateo High School. He was employed by the Pacific Electric Manufacturing Corp. before entering the air corps in February, 1943. He has been overseas for eight months.

RATION CALENDAR

Dealers today were scanning a list of price ceilings on used cars as established by the Office of Price Administration effective on all sales after July 10.

Publication of the first list concerned only nine makes of automobiles manufactured during 1941, 1939 and 1937. Prices as published were ceiling. Cars may be sold for less.

Dealers were given an advantage over private owners in that they are allowed to add $100 or 25 per cent, whichever may be greater, to the ceiling price if a 30-day or 1000-mile guarantee is given.

The prices run as follows:

J-M Smokestack By Jim Asbestos

THE MARKET FOR A MILLION NEW HOMES PER YEAR AFTER THE WAR WILL MEAN GOOD JOBS FOR J-M WORKERS

Good Chance for a Good, Lasting Job

The products J-M makes for war are about the same as those that J-M will make for peace, and there will be no long period of retooling the plants for peace production. There is pretty sure to be a great postwar demand for J-M building materials and other products. It is estimated that there will be a market for a million new homes per year, which is right up "J-M's alley."

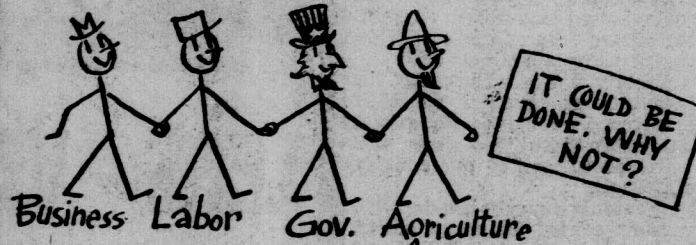

STOCKHOLDERS CAN'T STRIKE

Ever stop to think that the stockholders of a company can't strike for higher dividends? When they put money in the company, they have to gamble that the company is going to remain a thriving concern.

At a recent stockholders' meeting, one of the money-putter-uppers asked "Why don't we get larger dividends in view of the great business we have been doing?"

Lewis H. Brown, president of Johns-Manville, had the following paragraph in his Creed for Management, written in 1938: "We believe that Business, Labor, Government and Agriculture working hand in hand can provide jobs and the opportunity for all to work for security without loss of our liberty and rights as free men."

Business knows that it can not succeed without the government (as an impartial umpire) or labor (as a co-worker) or agriculture (as a prosperous customer). If each group in America gave each other group credit for its contribution to the American team, life in this country could be a golden picnic.

LITTLE BITS OF J-M HISTORY

In 1892, the H. W. Johns Manufacturing Company combined with several other companies in similar lines. Mr. Johns died in 1898 and the business was carried on by his son, H. W. Johns, Jr., until 1901. In 1901, the Manville Covering Company of Milwaukee, which had been in business since 1886, was merged with the Johns company under the name of the H. W. Johns-Manville Company.

The Manville company had been founded by C. B. Manville. His son, the late T. F. Manville, became president of the new company. A big new factory was built in Brooklyn, and was used until manufacturing operations were transferred in 1912 to Manville, New Jersey. The present ownership by about 8,000 scattered stockholders began in 1927, when the company was reorganized and became Johns-Manville Corporation.

Get 'Knocked for a Loop'

BY JOE CABOOSE

The "champ" was knocked for a loop in Saturday's street bond sales. The Commuters, after all their big talk, didn't sell enough bonds to finance a soldier's broken leg. It was nobody's fault, in particular. Just one of those things. Chmn. Clarence Brizee and Claude Gerdes, two of the committee's stalwarts, were out of town on business. Wrex Cruse and Bill Curran, who made with their vocal cords, had to work Saturday afternoon. Gene Barrett, the public address system expert and auctioneer, was home sick, and no one knew how to rig up his equipment. President Hoffman, who should have been there to cheer the boys on, showed up with a $37.50 check in hand just after the selling booth closed.

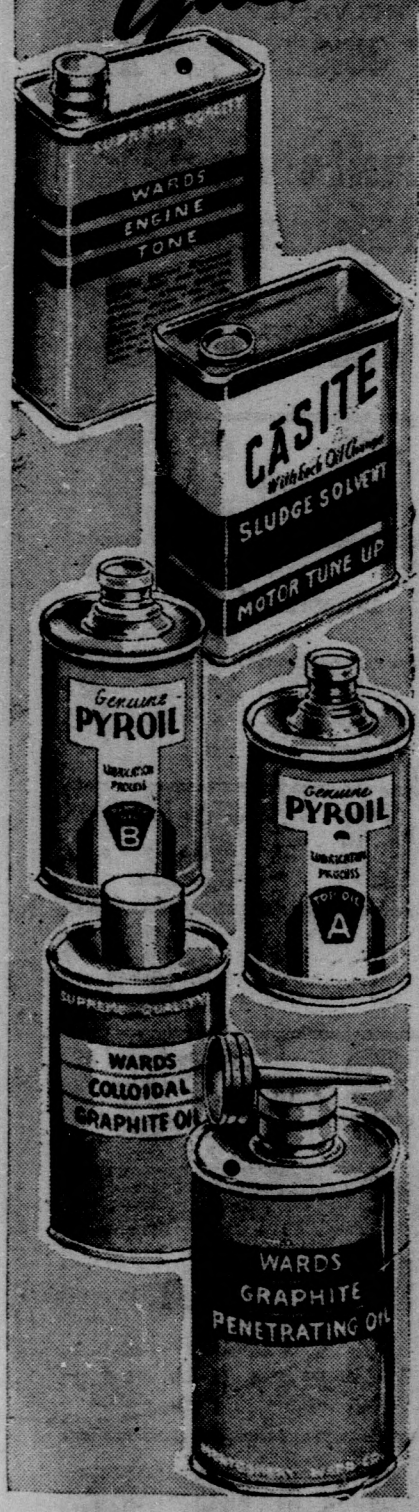

Alibis? Sure they're alibis. Who ever takes a licking without 'em? But just because the champ is down, don't be too quick to count him out. There are still several rounds to go before the final Fifth War Loan gong sounds on July 8. In the meantime, hats off to the lads who did show up Saturday and kept the rout from becoming a debacle. Such men as Al Armitage, pinch-hitting for Chairman Brizee, Lou Reiss, Bill McKeegan and Ray Cereghino, and the Commuters orchestra—Jack Welch, Bill Dobbin, the de Bow brothers (Sanford and Ed) and Bud Dennison—who played ter last Friday night at 9:15. His wife said he was already in bed and asleep. Next day Ross bawled Perk out for calling him in the "middle of the night."

The children play a game at our house called "guessing the stars." One will give the initials of a movie star and the others try to guess who. During a recent game, Pat gave the initials "C. R." No one could guess, so her first clue was "It's a man!" Still no one could get it, so her second clue: "He's a great favorite of Mom's!" The latter flushed a little, but even she pretended not to know who "C. R."

Which reminded us of "Julius, the Jailer." We asked the children if Julius, the Jailer, had a woman prisoner and she tried to escape, would Julius seize 'er? (For which, in a more adult crowd we would expect to be assaulted).

We still think the world's best humor—and certainly the cleanest—originates with the children . . .

if you have the patience to wait it out. Some one asked 5-year-old Jimmy how he liked his new home. "Okay," he said, "but I'm worn out from running up and down the stairs." Only his mother, who waited on him during a recent week's illness, appreciates the humor of that. He lost a lot of weight, but after he was up a visitor to the house asked him how he was, and he replied, "Oh, I'm just a bag of bones."

It's old now, but for the benefit of those who haven't heard it we promised to tell the story of the three bears, as told to us by one of the children. Pappa bear sat down in a cactus and yelled "ouch." Then mama bear sat down in the cactus, and she yelled "ouch!" But when baby bear sat down in the cactus he didn't say anything. Whereupon papa bear looked at suppose we could be raising a dead-end kid?"

It was Commuters Night at the USO Saturday and the following ladies, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jack Welch, took part: Messdames Wayne Burke, Jack Muller, Chester Armstrong, Martha Brand, Paul Allen, Sanford de Bow, Edward de Bow, John Clark, Richard Jeffery, Jack A. Werner and Tom Giannini. Mrs. Bert Conroy and Mrs. Stanley Perkins were in charge of the floral arrangement. Twenty charming junior hostesses helped entertain the service men, and Messrs. Allen, Clarke and Giannini served as judges over the dancing contests.

Some of the wives are toying with the idea of "dressing" for the installation dinner dance at the Ben Franklin Wednesday night. All we gotta say is, "girls, dress as ye deem please. But, pu-lease don't try to coerce the menfolk into wearing their monkey suits!" As far as Caboose is concerned, his concession to the formalities will consist of keeping his coat on while eating.

More important than what we put on, or eat, is how many war bonds are we prepared to buy? Those of us who failed to get our quota on or before last Saturday will have an opportunity to order at the installation party. No embarrassing pressure, mind you; but the little guy with the big cigar and the smooth writing pen will be standing by as a silent reminder to "BUY MORE!" See you Wednesday evening!

Prices in this ad are effective Thursday through Saturday June 22, 23, 24 in San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, Richmond, Hayward and other cities and towns in San Mateo, Alameda, and Contra Costa Counties unless charges are required as a result of new DPA regulations.
